FAQ

I've got a Kensington Iridio mouse I got it because I needed a scroll wheel/two button mouse and it was small and my wife prefers a smaller mouse.. It's one of the most important tools you use each day, so it's essential to find a model that's both responsive and comfortable.. However the scrolling has been a headache Kensington Studio Mouse Designed For MachineThe only downside to the MX Master is the pretty hefty RRP price tag of around £80 – but you there are deals to be had, so don't despair (above you'll find the best prices currently available).

So how do you find the right mouse for you?After all, there are thousands of variations of computer mouse out there – including trackpads.. Prefer a new model? The works with Mac and Windows It boasts high-precision tracking, a rechargeable battery (that lasts a long time between charges) and customisable buttons.. Logitech MX Master May be a bit big for some Logitech produces some of the most responsive computer mice on the market, which is pretty handy when you need a tool with precision.
